Welcome to the Team!

The four rules of thumb for a well-fitting bra

1. The back panel The back panel should not ride up above the clasps at the front.
2. The cups The breasts should fill the cups nicely, with a beautiful, fluent line between cup and breast.
3. The clasps and the front piece The clasps and the front piece should be flat against the chest (not against the breasts).
4. The straps Straps must not be so tight that they pinch the shoulder or so loose that they fall off the shoulder.
